RED CROSS WEEK

Englewood Commercial and Civic Association Appoint Week to Be Honored.

The Englewood Commercial and Civic association has decided to devote the week beginning October 22 to the benefit of the grandest organization ever founded, the immortal Red Cross, and every business firm under the association's influence will devote a percentage of the gross receipts of its business to the Red Cross fund.

This voluntary contribution of business men in all parts of Englewood to the merciful purposes of the Red Cross will, we are sure, net a handsome fund for the good cause, and we hope to see the announcement in every window that they are patriotic enough to contribute a small percentage of the week's receipts to so good a fund.

All business men may secure the necessary stamps and instructions by applying at Secretary Elmer Tyner's office, 344 West 63d St., or phone him, Wentworth 57.

ENGLEWOOD HAPPENINGS

Mrs. C. Benjamin Hopkins of 6657 Stewart Ave. will entertain the Garnet club next Thursday.

Why Our Streets Are So Soon Worn Out.

Besides the cutting up of paved streets to lay pipes and wires, another great cause of their early ruin is the heavy loads hauled over them, and for which they are not built. No ordinary paving will stand the loads of from six to twelve tons, and such loads are not uncommon now with the tractor motor cars hauling building material and coal over them. Either stronger streets must be constructed, or lighter loads prescribed by city ordinance. It is an injustice to compel property owners to pave a street and have it ruined and worn full of holes and inequalities within a year or two. This complaint is made all over the city and if it is taken before the city council with proper indorsement, will find many supporters. What do you say, aldermen?

Col. and Mrs. B. E. Hoppin of 360 Normal Pkwy. have returned from their summer home at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Colvin, 213 East Fiftieth St. Thirty-five guests enjoyed the evening and the bride and groom of a quarter of a century received many appropriate tokens of good will and remembrance.

We Need Our Home Guard Soldiers.

At this time when we are sending to the encampments our regular and state soldiers, a home guard is absolutely necessary. Not as "tin soldiers" to strut and parade, but to guard our homes and interests while the National Guards are training and preparing for active duty abroad. There is always more or less a spirit of lawlessness in certain elements when they think the regular peace preservers are elsewhere, but when they understand that the National Guard is replaced by a strong body of volunteers, well drilled and armed, they will think twice before trying on any rioting or disorderly actions. Our home guard or as it is called, "our reserve militia," may be called at any time to do duty for the state, and they should be encouraged by enlistment of all able-bodied and acceptable citizens, and assisted in other ways by those who cannot enlist. A well-drilled and equipped home guard is a necessity, and we should be thankful to the good men who are organizing and taking their time to serve us and the state.

Mrs. Alice M. Whitcomb of 249 61st Ct., president of Anna E. Dederich camp, No. 12, was elected national first vice president of the Ladies' National league at their convention held last week at Flint, Mich. There was a large attendance of representative delegates and members from the various camps, and the convention was interesting, being one of the best ever held of this successful order.

Englewood a Sociable Place.

While an important part of the great city of Chicago, our particular district has always maintained its individuality, and many of it's "small town" customs, the principal one of which is its sociability. In most places when a stranger joins a group he is met with a cold stare or critical comment that chills worse than a January blizzard, but in Englewood there is always the glad hand or at least a friendly smile and greeting of some sort that puts the stranger at home in a minute. Notice this on the waiting platforms of the "L," in the cars, lodge, church or any of the places people assemble, and your heart will warm up for Englewood. Introductions are not deemed necessary to a new neighbor. He is taken on his word until he prove unworthy, and soon becomes "one of us" and hence when a family once becomes a resident of Englewood, they seldom leave it, unless business or important affairs calls them away. Our ladies, while not at all "forward," are keen enough to recognize another lady when they meet them, and a smile, and some slight excuse introduces a conversation, until strangers soon become friends. There are many reasons why we are proud of our good old town, but none more so than its distinct "humanness" and friendliness to strangers.

The new Cunningham building at Englewood Ave. and Normal Blvd. is receiving the exterior finishing touches this week. The ornamental stained glass is being placed and the tonal decorations are in progress in the chapel. The sidewalk is being constructed from the building to the curb line, and the clearing up of the surroundings will do much to improve the general appearance of this model chapel and business block. The fixtures and glass are in the store rooms and second floor offices, and they are handsomest on the street. Mr. Cunningham expects to move in the new place in a very few weeks, and will invite his friends for a private view of the chapel especially.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF ENGLEWOOD.

64th St. and Yale Ave. Pastor, Rev. Willard H. Robinson, D. D. 6530 Lafayette Ave.

At the Englewood Presbyterian church: In the morning at 10:30, Doctor Robinson will speak on "The Homelessness of Lofty Souls." The ascending order of nature is marked by an increasing mobility. Rocks and trees are fast fixed in the soil. Worms dig up the soil and are agriculturists. The brute animals roam about. Among men those who have least ambition and purpose move only as they are driven. But when God begins to build up a race out of which shall come the salvation of mankind, he chooses some Abraham, who goes forth, not knowing whither he fares. Isaac and Jacob are sojourners dwelling in tents. The nation goes into distant captivities in Egypt or Babylon. Its prophets hide in caves and dens. At last it has no home at all. And finally the Son of Man declares that while the foxes have their burrowed holes and the birds at nesting time have their wonderfully woven retreats, secure in leafy coverts, the Son of Man has not where to lay his head. It is because the tents of ease are not a real home for high hearts. They hear voices calling them. And every Babylonian Gilgamesh and every oriental Buddha, every Greek Ulysses and every Roman Eneas wanders to find rest. They seek for some divine "weed" or fountain which shall confer immortal youth. Sometimes to appease their own souls, sometimes to enter into the world of men as into a brotherhood; sometimes, alas, for mere conquest, men go forth. How strange are the movements of the nations today. One goes forth for a place in the sun, another to recover on fields of blood some long-lost province, another to make the world safe for democracy or to make democracy safe for the world. When Jesus said: "The Son of Man hath not where to lay his head," he not only told of his own homelessness, but described the condition of all great sons of men; so that every Dante becomes an exile and every Dana a traveler and every Livingstone a denizen of Darkest Africa. This is the life our own nation is moving into across the sea.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 14.

RETURNING FROM CAPTIVITY.

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 1.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord hath done great things for us; whereof we are glad. —Psalms 126:3.

Israel went into captivity because of her sins. The time of her disciplinary process was about to end, as its purpose was now accomplished: namely, the cure of Israel's idolatry. Ever since the Babylonian captivity the Hebrew people have been worshipers of the one God. Monotheism has stood forth as a vital characteristic. The main reason for the Jews' maintenance of racial identity in spite of their national dislocation and the breaking up of their social ties, is the unity of their faith, around the one God.

I. The Proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 1-4).

(1) The Time of (v. 1). The first year of Cyrus; that is the first year after his conquest of Babylon.

(2) How It Was Brought About (v. 1). The Lord stirred up his spirit. The Lord often uses very unlikely agents in the accomplishment of his purposes. There is nothing too hard for him. He can readily use a heathen king to accomplish his purpose. He can find a way of approach to any heart. Likely Daniel was the agent used to bring the matter to the king's attention. Daniel was still the influential prime minister of Babylon. From his study of the prophecies of Jeremiah (Jer. 25:12; Isa. 45:1; compare Daniel 9:2), he knew that the time was near for the return of the people to their own land, so he likely brought the matter to the attention of the king and persuaded him to thus favor his people.

(3) Its Contents (vv. 2-4).

(a) A confession of the true God (vv. 2, 3).

He acknowledges him to be the God of heaven, the Most High, the Supreme God, a God of goodness. He declared, "He has given me all the kingdoms of the earth," and that God had with authority laid upon him the charge of building him a house at Jerusalem.

(b) A Generous Permission to Israel (v. 3). All who desired to go up to Jerusalem and build the Lord's house were permitted to go. He even commanded the blessing of the Lord to be upon them.

(c) A Positive Co-Operation (v. 4). None were obliged to go up, but a positive obligation was laid upon those who did not go up to render assistance to those who did. They were to aid in the building of the house of God by giving money, beasts and goods. It was more than a free-will offering, an obligation in addition thereto. The obligation was even wider than the people of Israel. The heather were asked to render aid.

II. Response to the Proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 5, 6).

(1) By Israel (v. 5). Strange to say the decree of Cyrus was not met with great enthusiasm. Only a small number, chiefly from Judah and Benjamin, returned (v. 5). For most of them it meant giving up business interests, for they had settled down to the regular callings of life. Besides the sacrifice of business interests it involved great risks as to the future. The entire company, including servants, was about fifty thousand (2:64). Of this company we note the following divisions; first, chiefs of the fathers of Judah and Benjamin, that is magistrates; second, priests and Levites, leaders in religion; third, skillful artificers, head workmen.

(2) By Their Neighbors (v. 6). This response was apparently more hearty than that of the Jews themselves. Their neighbors gave freely of gold, silver, beasts and goods. God had not only graciously disposed the heart of Cyrus toward his people but they found peculiar favor from their neighbors, so that their wants were abundantly supplied.

III. Restoration of the Sacred Vessels (vv. 7-11). These vessels had been carried away to Babylon many years before. Little did Nebuchadnezzar realize that he would put into safe keeping the vessels which would be needed at this time. They were carefully numbered and turned over to the proper officers. Except for their desecration in Belshazzar's feast, they were none the worst for having been carried away. These were brought up to Jerusalem from Babylon.

Stand by the Faith.

Are we serving God and the church as well? Are we getting ready? Are we putting our whole trust and confidence in the Lord? We must be careful not to secularize the church while we are trying to religionize the world. One of the chief dangers we of the clergy meet is that while we try to win men, the men of the world may win us. We must, first of all, subordinate everything to building up the ideal of the Christ and his church. There is no better way to build up and to stand by faith.—The Bishop of Colorado.

What We Are Here For.

We are not put here just to enjoy ourselves and do only what pleases us. God wants us to forget our own selves; that is, not to think first and foremost of ourselves, but to be busy thinking what we can do for others, to help them, or to make them happy. And the Bible tells us, you know, that "Christ pleased not himself." He never thought what would make him happiest or most comfortable, but what he could do for someone else.—Kate S. Gates.

Poverty.

Poverty is only contemptible when it is felt to be so. Doubtless the best way to make our poverty respectable is to seem never to feel it as an evil.—Bovee.

Love's Secret.

Love's secret is to be always doing things for God, and not to mind because they are such very little ones.—Frederick W. Faber.

Honest Endeavors.

I think that there is success in all honest endeavor, and that there is some victory gained in every gallant struggle that is made.—Dickens.

Power of Littles.

Trifles make perfection, and perfection is no trifle.—Michael Angelo.

MARLOWE HIPPODROME

"Doc" White, the effervescent and everything else that goes to make a rattling good manager, has exceeded himself in his latest "scoop" and besides the other extra attractions at the Marlowe Hippodrome now has billed the Grant Park Jackie Bank under the efficient leadership of Edward M. Kennedy, a personal friend of Mr. White's, and this excellent organization of 65 pieces will give a special benefit performance at the Marlowe on Wednesday evening, October 17. Our readers should understand that this benefit is for the purpose of purchasing instruments for the band as the United States government does not provide them for this organization. The band is a wonder, every musician an artist and every Jackie in the bunch as full of fight and pluck as Admiral Dewey at Manila, and they want the chance to buy their own instruments. Don't be a piker. Help them out, and above all hear their music. Edward M. Kennedy, their leader, is one of the most patriotic men in the service and believes in instilling "pep" into the boys with good music, and he certainly is doing it with this band. Every lover of band music will want to hear the boys and every American citizen with the blood of a hero will help whoop 'er up for Old Glory and the good cause.

Edward M. Kennedy, Chief Musician.

In addition to this superb attraction there will also be the big Jass band and the standard vaudeville acts.

Mary Pickford, the delightful little screen star, in "Mistress Nell," the story of the lovely minx, Nell Gwynn, the favorite of a king. On Friday, Saturday and Sunday comes another great bill with the second John McCormack as the tenor soloist, Tom McGranahan, assisted by Zetta Gay, violinist, and company. The wonderful voice of Mr McGranahan is a topic in the best musical circles and his singing of the best songs is a treat in itself. The critics of the city award him the space of a tojiner and his voice as marvelous. Don't fail to hear him.

LINDEN PHOTODROME

Friday, October 12—Ruth Stonehouse in "A Phantom Husband." The story of a country girl whose pride impels her to spread news of an imaginary fiance in the small Kentucky town wanders through the maze of her white lies trying to produce a ready-made husband for her wedding date. In following an ingenious plan she finds a real husband, who brings her more happiness and worldly goods than she dared to expect. To women who are hunting husbands "A Phantom Husband" suggests an entirely new field for operations. The Burton Holmes Travel Pictures and a Victor Moore comedy.

Saturday, October 13—Dustin Farnum in "North of Fifty-Three." The story deals with the marriage of a man to a woman whose reputation has been sullied by the evil designs of another. Thrills and throbs fill every minute of this tale of the great Northwest. Also the Animated Weekly and Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran in a corking good comedy.

Sunday, October 14—Belle Bennett and Roy Stewart star in "The Bond of Fear." A sensational story of the West full of "pep," thrill and action. It's great, so don't miss it. Also the latest Keystone comedy.

Monday, October 15—Walt Whitman portrays soul of honor in "Tar-Heel Warrior," a great drama of the North and South, which will stand out as one of the most impressive and absorbing productions of the day. Also other pictures of great interest.

Thursday, October 16—Jack Richardson and Roy Stuart in "One-Shot Ross," is a five-reel picture with a punch, has plenty of zip and ginger interspersed with appealing heart interest that will make it an entertainment of value for sportive fans; also other pictures.

Wednesday, October 17—June Elvidge and Arthur Ashley in "Shall We Forgive Her?" in five heart stirring parts; also "The Bray Pictograph," and good comedies.

Thursday, October 18—Harold Lockwood in "Paradise Garden." A wonderful production of outdoor life and said to be the greatest picture Mr. Lockwood has ever appeared in. The Linden management guarantees this to be great, so don't miss it.

Not a Good Seller.

"Is this a free translation of Homer you have made?" "Guess it is," gloomily responded the author thereof. "I can't seem to sell it to anybody."

EMPRESS THEATRE

The Empress theatre's matinees daily are the great attraction and the merry little 15 cents jingle in the till as the merry little maid hands out the admission tickets and the vast audiences put in several pleasant hours in being entertained by the varied attractions genial Manager Harry Mitchell provides for them. The great big house is one of the most comfortable in the city as well as of largest seating capacity. In fact, the large audiences are the secret of the good shows, as smaller houses could not afford the class of attractions the Empress gives at the little dime figure. The bill changes so often that new attractions are always bubbling up like water from a clear spring, and a visit either afternoon or evening is always enjoyable. In fact the dismissal of an Empress audience is noticeable on Halsted St. as a crowd of smiling people almost create a stampede on that busy thoroughfare. Of course we don't claim we are the only show on earth, but we are one of the best, and at the prices we ask we have no equal and stand ready to prove it any day or evening.

Appreciating the fact that people tire of all pictures and even all vaudeville, we combine the two, and even introduce programs which may not be included as either, our sole aim being to give our patrons just what they want in a melange of talent that will not tire but amuse and interest and awake the risibles to the titillation that ends in a guffaw and a laugh.

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

The patrons of the Englewood theatre will have an opportunity next week of witnessing "The Lady Buccaneers," a burlesque attraction that is really a musical revue, without any "deep-laid plot," but a corking good company of principals and a chorus of nice young women who appear in a dozen or more cunningly contrived costumes that add materially to their physical charms.

"Spending a Million," is the name of the revue. The prominent parts in the comedy are taken acceptably by Frederick Hackett, Frank Penny, Walter Benton, Frank Hanscom, Collin Suydam, Miss Flossy McCloud, Margaret Clark, Mabel McCloud, Annie Goldie and Pauline Jannis.

Most of the company are well versed in burlesque entertaining and there are few tricks in the art of making an audience laugh that they have not got at their finger tips. Quite a lot of popular songs and novel dances are interspersed throughout the entertainment, and there has been quite an expenditure for scenery and other artistic embelishments.

Mermaida and her charming diving beauties will appear in each performance in a series of aquatic sports that are both sensational and artistic. It is said that Mermadia is the champion lady swimmer and high diver in America irrespective of claims to the title set forth by others.

The management has arranged for a week of unusual water competitions and that local talent may have the opportunity to show their ability to swim and do fancy diving, there will be one night when any local male swimmer or diver may compete and also a night when any local female swimmer and diver may compete. The men's contest will be held Tuesday night and the ladies' contest will be held Thursday night. The competitions are open to all comers and liberal cash prizes will be awarded the winners. All wishing to enter must have their name entered at the box office not later than seven o'clock on the nights of the contests.

The Duty of Parents.

What better legacy can parents leave their children than to teach them that success and prosperity are surer if they begin by doing everything well; by being so careful and exact in the performance of every duty and making themselves so useful that their friends or employers 'cannot do without them;' and that when success begins to crown their efforts they will "be happier and no poorer" if they use some proportion of their wealth in aiding those less fortunate? Let parents and employers, both by example and precept, teach their children and their employees to be industrious, faithful, economical and scrupulously honest, and the daily papers will not send through our community so many records of crime and immorality.—Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

Writers of "Home, Sweet Home."

The words of the popular song, "Home, Sweet Home," were written by John Howard Payne, an American roving actor, who was born in New York, 1791, and died in Africa in 1852, and never had much of a home anywhere. The music was written by Sir Henry Bishop, an English composer, born in 1786 and died in 1855, who incorporated the song in an opera entitled "Clari." The song was popular in England before it was ever heard in the United States.

Why Look After Daddy?

Mary was going downtown with her father, and mother, after dressing her, gave a few instructions on how to behave. She ended with, 'And, Mary dear always hold daddy's hand when you are crossing the road.' Mary looked up innocently. "Why, mamma," she said, "can't he take care of himself?"

OUR WANT COLUMN

Is the best medium of reaching people in the South part of the city, and our rate of one cent a word is exceptionally low, but we must insist that all such ads be paid for in advance and either brought to the office or sent by mail as we cannot afford to make bills and send collectors for same. This applies to everyone whether you are a friend to the editor or office boy, and we will positively make no exceptions, so please do not kick if your request to violate this rule is refused.

Bell System

YOUR COMMERCIAL SIGNAL CORPS

In that great industrial army that is rapidly mobilizing for war service, the Bell System serves in the Signal Corps.

ITS WORK is to keep open the lines of telephonic communication so vital to the National Defense and to provide dependable service for use in mobilizing the commercial resources of the country.

It is prepared for these duties. It carries thirty million telephone messages daily.

ITS EQUIPMENT includes a billion dollar plant; five thousand four hundred telephone exchanges; twenty million miles of wire; ten million telephones.

ITS ORGANIZATION consists of one hundred and eighty thousand trained and capable workers, imbued with a sense of responsibility and with a will to serve loyally and efficiently.

This company is taking every precaution to keep its part of the commercial Signal Corps work of the Nation up to the highest possible point of efficiency.

You can help by taking good care of your switchboards and telephone instruments and by co-operating with the operator by answering promptly the call of the bell.

Introducing Suits and Fabrics

Fashion holds a loose rein this season and leaves much to the fancy of the individual. If only she contrives to be smart and somewhat original she may please herself as to the length of her coat, the lines of her silhouette and the material of her suit. She who loves the plain, tailor-made suit in quiet colors is much approved by fashionable sentiment, and she who cannot be happy in severe things may go a long way in elaboration.

Nevertheless the predominating style in tailored suits is built on the almost straight line silhouette, with a three-quarter length (or slightly longer) coat and a plain skirt without any fullness to spare and hanging straight. It may even cup in a little toward the bottom, and is buttoned up the side seams from the hem almost to the knee. There is no attempt to make suit skirts longer and eight inches above the floor is a safe rule for them.

There are several new names for soft woolen cloths, usually descriptive of their surfaces. Instead of trying to remember them all—for no one else is apt to—they may be classed as the "glove finish" materials, as their names imply—suede twill, wool jersey, velours, broadcloth, bolivia, are all of this character.

The suit shown here has a plain skirt, fuller than the average. The coat is semi-fitting with straight line down the front, and a fashionable fullness over the hips, where it is set onto a belt curved at the sides. Two small pockets appear below the belt and there is a convertible collar of the material. The hem of the coat is very narrow and there are no decorative features except the buttons on the pockets.

Singers of the community are especially fortunate in having the opportunity, presented by the Civic Music chorus of Hamilton Park, to receive training under so excellent a conductor as Edward Collins. The chorus, which meets for rehearsal in the field house of Hamilton Park on Monday evenings, is studying "The Skylark" by Goring Thomas. New members should enroll now. Apply to Mrs. A. J. Fisher, 7157 Yale Ave. Telephone Stewart 31.

The Woman's association of the Normal Park Presbyterian church resumed regular weekly meetings on last Friday. All-day meetings will be held every Friday and the time devoted to Red Cross work and preparation for the seasons' bazaar which will be held in December. Ladies of the community are invited to join this group of workers. The officers of the association are: President, Mrs. F. F. Montgomery; vice president, Mrs. August Tidholm; secretary, Mrs. Charles Wood, treasurer, Miss McClure.

The men of Englewood are earnestly requested to become members of the guild. On the second Thursday of every month various social and recreational attractions are provided and the men are sparing no effort to make everyone feel at home. A minstrel show will be given in the near future and the committee in charge of same will be glad to hear from anyone who might care to participate in same. Harry F. Gilluly of 7352 Lowe Ave. is the president of the guild.

The Simple Breakfast.

Over, under and through all eating, the simple breakfast still stands supreme, declares A. J. R., in the Minneapolis Journal. A glass of water, a cereal or wheat biscuit with cream in abundance and a peach from Colorado sliced in, two slices of bacon not so crisp that they break, two slices of home-made bread comfortably toasted, a cup of coffee poured upon the cream and sugar and stopped at exactly the right color, two of mother's doughnuts and, as you leave the table with a sigh of relief, if it be possible to get the hooks on one of baby's bits of chocolate candy for a topper, no great harm is done. With that breakfast, one may leave the house feeling that he is fortified until the noon hour rolls around again.

Easily Made Flower Holder.

A holder for short-stemmed flowers may be made from an embroidery hoop over which netting has been stretched; place this over a bowl of water.

Park and Field House Activities.

GENERAL NOTES.

The library is open on Sunday afternoons from two o'clock until six.

The Marquette Social club will meet in the west clubroom on Wednesday evening, October 17.

The knitting class has changed the meeting night from Monday to Tuesday. Classes are held from 7:30 to 8:30 and from 8:30 to 9:30.

The room occupied by the library is undergoing repairs and the south clubroom has become the temporary library.

The Hamilton Park Woman's club has reserved the entire second floor of the field house for the "Country Fair" which will be held on Tuesday, October 16, afternoon and evening.

The young men's class of the Englewood Presbyterian Sunday school has reserved the north room and class 13 of the same school the west room for parties on Saturday evening.

Permits for games of soccer, hockey and baseball may be secured upon application. The two soccer fields, the hockey field, the rugby field and the two baseball diamonds are now ready and open to the public.

SOCCER.

The game of last Saturday between Calumet and Tilden high school resulted in a win for Calumet by the score of 4 goals to 0.

The Monday game between Parker and Wendall Phillips was played to a scoreless tie.

Boys of Davis square and Hamilton Park will play next Saturday.

WOMAN'S GYMNASIUM.

Two hundred and fifty women have registered for work in the evening classes.

Hockey for girls and women on Saturday afternoons at three o'clock in the woman's outdoor gymnasium. Miss Florence Owen, treasurer.

Registration is now open for afternoon classes which will begin Monday, October 15.

The afternoon class for women will meet on Thursdays at three o'clock and will be directly followed by a class for children six years of age and under. These classes have been planned for the convenience of mothers wishing to take gymnasium work. During the children's class a knitting instructor will be at the service of the women.

INFORMATION CONCERNING PARK SERVICE.

The park and field house are for the purpose of serving all legitimate community needs.

The assembly hall may be used for dramatics, dances, musicals, institutes, civic welfare meetings, lectures, addresses and a variety of social gatherings.

The park commissioners will furnish without charge, lantern and operator for stereopticon lectures.

It is possible to arrange for banquets to be held in the hall.

The clubrooms offer headquarters for neighborhood groups who wish to organize and carry on club work.

The director will be found ready to assist and advise with groups using hall and club rooms.

Gymnasium classes for boys and girls, men and women, are organized and conducted daily from October to May.

Dressing quarters and class instruction are furnished free.

An all-year shower bath system is available for all ages and both sexes. Dressing quarters, soap and towels are furnished free.

The park and its equipment offer an athletic club service to all young men.

For further information see the director, or address the South Park commissioners.

Be a Home Soldier.

Join the Englewood battalion of Governor Lowden's state volunteers. They are training. Come join them. The board of education has opened the Normal Arts gymnasium 68th St. and Stewart Ave., every Tuesday and Thursday evening free. No dues or fees to get this military training. The business men of 63rd St are making arrangements for uniforms.

A mistaken conception prevails of the statutory obligation of the Illinois Volunteer Training corps. First, it must be understood that these units do not take the Hayes oath, and they are not subject to national service, neither will they be called out for camp duty nor called out of Cook county. But they are the military backers of the governor to preserve law and order of the state, and take the place of the National Guards that have been taken from the state, and will receive the same rate of pay when called to active service.

The state council of defense is doing everything to make life tenable, by keeping the state free from violence and mob law. And as the number of these volunteers is limited to 6,000, it will be but a short time before this quota is filled, as many are eager to assist the governor in defending their home, state and liberty and do not want to be classed as total slackers.

If a mob came to your home to deprive you of your rights, property or life you then would fight so let us get together as an organized body to defend our home and rights.

Enrollment blanks to join the I. V. T. corps can be had from any of the following who are officers: John T. Kerwin, 6800 Union Ave.; Eugene L. Perry, 619 W. 60th St.; Robert E. Maysack, 7038 Stewart Ave.; William H. Browne, 6945 Stewart Ave.; J. W. Lester, 1312 E. 47th St.; Otto J. Banker, 7701 Union Ave.; James B. Ryan, 3964 Langley Ave.; John McMahon, 1241 W. 67th St.; Charles E. Shearman, 6340 Normal Ave.; Curtis H. Gardiner, 8037 Kimbark Ave.; J. W. Clarke, 6544 Robey St.; L. F. Perrine, 7048 Princeton Ave.; M. Donker, 6733 Peoria St.; 718 W. 63rd St., evenings.

Wanted to Be Sure.

Wifey—"Tom, dear, I wish you'd taste this milk and see if it's perfectly sweet. If it's the least bit sour I mustn't give a drop of it to poor little Fifi."

Hamilton Park Woman's Club.

The club announces "A Country Fair," to be held in the field house at Hamilton Park on Tuesday, October 16, beginning at one o'clock and continuing throughout the afternoon and evening.

Awards will be given in a competitive exhibit of cakes, pies, bread, jellies, canned goods, needlework, garden and house flowers and plants. Entries for competition may be made at the field house on Monday, October 15.

There will be a Red Cross booth and exhibits of work of junior members; loan exhibit of pictures from Artists' guild; gold medal exhibit, Panama exposition; exhibit of household furnishings, with a demonstration of "cold pack" method of canning, afternoon and evening.

Concerts will be given on the Apollo reproducing piano and a program of vocal numbers, folk and esthetic dancing and readings to the accompaniment of the victrola has been arranged for the evening by Miss Eischbach, assisted by Mrs. Ferdinanda Anderson.

In the afternoon there will be a baby show, and talks on "Linens," by Mrs. Genevieve Reid of Marshall Field & Co.; "Decoration In Its Relation to Human Life," Miss Maud McIlvain, Mandel Brothers; "A Critical Appreciation of Art in Oriental Rugs" and "The Method of Weaving Oriental Rugs by Hand" Mr. Nahigian, Nahigian Brothers; "The Twofold Mission of the Victrola," Miss Perle de France Eisbach Lyon & Healy.

The evening program provides fortune telling character sketches by Mr. L. R. Merrell, and talks on "The Economy of Using Oriental Rugs in the Home" by Mr. Nahigian; "The Classification of Oriental Rugs" and "Loan Exhibit From the Artists' Guild," by Mr. Antonin Sterba of the Art Institute.

The "Fair" which is open to the public, will be in charge of the art and literature and educational departments. Chairmen, Ella Barr Nash and Elizabeth Steele; assistant chairmen, Nellie Cross and Gertrude Waterbury; corresponding secretaries, Alice Williams and R. R. Marquard assisted by Mesdames L. P. Fry, O. S. Barnes, F. C. Frances, E. M. Kromer, C. M. Swaney, T. E. Mayes, T. N. Mercer, J. H. Hunnell, Jr., A. E. Wallace, M. J. Harker, J. Sullivan, W. J. Suhren, G. H. Grimes, F. H. Matthews, M. Honk, R. K. Sheperd, M. Sergomb, W. M. Brim, A. O. Jackson, J. A. Laird, W. G. Murray, H. L. McCleb, F. J. McCann, W. E. Barker, J. Galbraith, A. Kruse, W. H. Ripley, F. L. Tidd, J. W. Dunn, G. A. Long, R. O. Randall, C. D. Hagberg, Miss Ethel Waterbury.

Music Hall Charms.

Fatigue and tired nerves often account for restlessness; in such conditions there is nothing better than soft music to quiet the nerves and put one in harmony again. It is more than a saying that "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." It is true of that small primitive being, your child, who needs all that you can give him.—New York Evening Post.

Rapid-Fire Forgery.

Forgery while you wait was the trade of an eighteen-year-old lad recently charged at Guildford, England. He claimed that he could sit down and make a treasury note in half an hour. The forged notes, though somewhat crudely executed, might deceive in a bad light, being the exact size and color of the genuine ones.

ALL THE NEWS FROM
Halsted Street to Western Avenue
55th to 100th Streets

E. R. Landrick, formerly of Washington Heights, has moved to 949 59th St.

Please remember to sign the local news you send us, and get it to us by Wednesday if possible.

Hallowe'en events are being framed, and about every assembly hall in town is billed for a party.

On account of an unusual rush of local news matter this week our serial story will be omitted.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Reynolds of 6346 Peoria St. left Sunday for a month's stay at their apple ranch in Idaho.

Halloween favors, novelties of all sorts at Kellner's, 443 63rd St., next to post office.

Mrs. Thomas Williams of Orlando, Fla., who had spent a very enjoyable summer with her son, Fred C. Williams of 6517 Halsted St., returned to her southern home this week.

On Tuesday, at St. Brendan's church, occurred the funeral of Patrick Doyle of 6941 Racine Ave. He died Saturday after a brief illness. Interment was at Mount Olivet cemetery.

Oak index card cases complete, box, cards and indices at special price of 45 cents, at Frank Kellner's, 443 W. 63d St., just east of post office.—(Adv.)

Joseph Jilka, who died at his home, 7106 Carpenter St., was eighty-four years of age and an old resident of Englewood. His funeral occurred Monday from Sacred Heart church, and was buried at St. Marie cemetery.

The Englewood division of Christian Endeavor will hold their annual fall rally at the First Reformed Church of Englewood, 62d and Peoria Sts., on Thursday evening, October 18, 1917.

Money to loan, any amount, on diamonds, watches, jewelry, at low rates. Strictly confidential. Sandacks, 6217 Halsted St.—(Adv.)

Next Monday, the 15th, will be Tag day, for the Chicago Children's Benefit league, the originals who idea who care for the poor children of the city, regardless of color, creed or nationality. They should be loyally helped.

Tuesday last George Stepanek entertained a number of his young friends in honor of his eighteenth birthday anniversary. It was a very pleasant occasion and George did the honors with the ease of a Beau Brummel.

In the ads of the Stuckey Prescription drug store will be found an interesting series of advices of "The Everwells." Read them and heed the pointers.

If there has been a dollar of the wheel tax spent in this part of the city, we do not know where. We are entitled to at least $10,000 worth of work on the streets without special assessments.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pfieffer of 843 63d St. have returned from Dayton and Cincinnati, O., where they spent a most enjoyable summer. If "Loney" stayed in Dayton much longer they would have run him for mayor of the town.

Thirty-second ward branch, Socialist party, meets every Friday evening at 8 p. m. at Carpenter's lower hall, 6412 Halsted St. Ladies and gentlemen are always welcome. No secrets. Speakers every other week. Come and get acquainted.

It is noticed that quite a number of saloons have gone out of business west of Halsted St. Lack of patronage and higher expenses are reducing the number considerably, while the new taxes raise prices on "booze" so that customers are not so plentiful.

Halsted St. merchants complain that there is an organized band of beggars infesting this district, each one having certain locations for a week, when a new one inherits the spot. If these people are deserving the county should care for them; if not, they should be locked up.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, the "L" road has no intention of extending the line beyond Loomis St. That is no reason, however, why a station should not be placed at Morgan St., at least. The distance from Halsted to Racine is one-half mile, much too great a distance to walk. See the aldermen about it.

Prof. C. J. Uhl has received word from Springfield that his application for a license to practice chiropody has not only been allowed, but he was complimented on his past success, and his license has been granted him without examination. This speaks high of Professor Uhl's reputation, as the examination is usually a severe one, and only the best may hope to get through successfully.

The ladies of Englewood are cordially invited to attend the grand fall and winter opening at Anna Stepanek's, the original exclusive corsetier at 6715-17 Halsted St. Mrs. Stepanek's large twin stores are filled with all of the newest and best in woman's wear, and it is a treat to see the styles much ahead of the downtown stores. Read the full announcement on our eighth page, and be sure to visit the store. You will be made welcome.

Garfield company, Illinois volunteers, is now being recruited, with temporary headquarters at 5457 South Halsted, where meetings are held each afternoon and evening. J. R. Mills, commanding officer, reports that there is much interest in th organization and men are joining daily for training. The Garfield unit promises to be one of the most vigorous of the many now being organized throughout the city, under the laws of the state of Illinois and the state council of defense. The main body is called the Illinois Volunteer Training corps, and is an auxiliary of the reserve militia, I. N. G.

Buy Your Loan Bonds at Home.

The Chicago City Bank and Trust company, desiring to aid in placing the second Liberty bonds with the people of this vicinity, are making a special effort to reach those desiring to subscribe, and will be pleased to accept applications for them in any amount, great or small.

We must sell these bonds to help win the war, and it is the patriotic duty of our citizens to subscribe for them now, as they will be withdrawn from public subscription on the 27th of October. Remember they pay four per cent, are the best and surest investment in the world, and arrangements can be made to pay for them in payments. Drop in at the Chicago City Bank and Trust company, 6233-35 Halsted St., for full particulars, and make your reservations of a home bank.

The Neighborhood House Woman's club met Thursday at 2:30. Subject was, "Let Women Mind Their Own Business," by Mrs. J. Paul Goode.

Mrs. M. Barger, lately of 6912 Carpenter St., has returned from Sheridan, Wyo., where she spent a pleasant summer with her newly married son, Henry Barger, engineer for the Burlington railroad.

Hon. Seymour Stedman, Socialist candidate for superior court judge, will speak on "Industrial Democracy" at Carpenter's hall October 14 (Sunday afternoon) at 2:15 p. m. Come early and secure a seat and hear one of the most eloquent speakers in America.

Asbury Methodist Episcopal church, Parnell Ave., near 31st St., Rev. Frank C. Bruner, pastor, will preach both morning and evening. At 10:30, "The Heroic in Religion." At 7:30 "A Fire on Hearth Never Goes Out." The friends of the neighborhood are invited to these services. Welcome to strangers.

Householders in flats and houses are protesting against the distribution of all sorts of cheap advertising that litters up the halls and lawns and later makes filth and dirt on the streets and alley ways. The Improvement club could accomplish much in this line by getting after this waste of good printing.

Mr. S. Heck, president of the United State Bank at 60th and Halsted Sts., has the honor of being the only banker in this section of the city who attended the American Bankers' Association convention at Atlantic City, the week of September 24th. Attending this convention was a delightful opportunity to come in close touch with the big men of this country in the banking business and learn first-hand "Patriotism," the keynote of the meeting. The next convention will be held in our own city.

CAT HELPS FIND THE LEAK

Ingenius Plumber Demonstrates Feline, With Aid of Catnip, Is Worth Having Around.

"There are more ways than one to kill a cat," says an old proverb, and "there are more ways than one to use a cat," is the new reading. Here is an illustration:

A plumber was called upon to locate a supposed leak in a ten-story tenement house. After a day's cogitation and sundry profitless soundings and sniffings, he finally hit upon a plan. He went to a drug store and bought 10 cents' worth of fluid extract of valerian—commonly called catnip. Then he took the elevator to the top floor and poured the valerian diluted with water down the drain. Half an hour later he took a cat and visited each floor in turn.

The cat exhibited no interest until a room in the seventh story was reached. Then, with a bound, it sprang from the plumber's arms and began to paw the wall, mewing loudly. A hole was made in the wall, and there, sure enough, was the leak.

That plumber deserves to make a fortune from his ingenuity.

Natural Heating Plant.

During severe winter weather range cattle in the Bad Lands of western North Dakota are seen now and then congregated about a great fissure in a red, naked hillside. Investigation shows that a warm current of air rising through the fissure from a burning coal bed underneath has attracted them.

Jackmans of 10049 Aberdeen St. have moved to 1044 104th Pl. The E. Shuttlers have moved from 10613 Racine Ave. to 8716 Emerald Ave.

Some one told us that Mr. Henry Koch, 10514 Racine Ave. has a new "flivver." The old election board of the Ninety-fifth precinct are looking forward to some lovely spins in the country if Mr. Koch will open his big, generous heart. Mr. R. Valentine, who also owns a car, forgot about his friends, and Mr. Johnson simply can't stand any more snubs from "that election board."

Early last Sunday morning, to be exact, at 3 a. m., Messrs. J. H. Johnson, 1222 105th St.; V. H. Yost, 105th and Church; Y. B. Morgan and F. Weiss, 1245 103rd St., left in a touring car for Camp Grant to visit some of our soldier lads. Laden with packages of goodies, they found the boys were exceedingly well fed, for Edward Weiss is now chief cook of Battery E, Three Hundred and Thirty-second field artillery. Private James Keehan of 9930 Malta St. never knew he was so healthy and Private Carney finds guard duty an exceedingly pleasant occupation, especially when he walks with a pick-ax handle. Private Frazier is so anxious to leave for France that he has volunteered his services and hopes to cross the big Atlantic ocean ere long.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willig, 9923 Winston Ave., have a new son.

Carl Moeller, 9883 Winston Ave., has been released from naval service on account of ill health, and has been given an honorable military discharge.

Dr. Howard A. Johnston, Mr. Hoover's personal representative for the city of Chicago, gave a talk at Community house on Thursday afternoon. Subject, "War Breads and Other War Food."

People who are obliged to take cars going south at 95th and Vincennes find it very uncomfortable. The car stops just where a machine swings around to 95th St., and there is great danger, in fact, a number of minor accidents have occurred. Can't something be done?

On Thursday evening, October 4, Miss Hilda Baum and Mr. Martin Kuehnel, both of Beverly Hills, were married by Rev. P. Yarrow, pastor of Morgan Park Congregational church. After the ceremony the young people were given a wedding dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cornelius, 95th and Vincennes, and a theatre party followed. Mr. and Mrs. Kuehnel left with the Baum and Westberg families in their touring car for Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they all plan to live for the winter.

Mr. Francis Dowling, son of Mrs. John Dowling, 8752 Winchester Ave., has sent a letter to one of his friends telling about his camp experiences. He says, "We drill, drill and drill from 5:45 a. m. until 5:30 p. m., and when we get through we surely enjoy our bunks, but we all are feeling fine. We have the reputation of being the best equipped and best drilled regiment in the division of 28 regiments, and that is why we work hard to keep up our reputation. So you see what a crack regiment old Chicago has put in the field, with a slogan of 'Berlin or bust,' and we will not bust. So now for Paree, to show them over there."

On Monday afternoon a meeting was held at the Vanderpoel school and three speakers gave interesting talks on food conservation and registration.

Mrs. William Murray, 1045 104th Pl., is suffering from a severely injured hand caused by being pierced with a needle.

WE have several times informed you that we are waiting for your call. You have been told upon numerous occasions by us and by your friends that this is a dependable market. Why not take advantage of the fact and let us serve you.

E. A. R. THEATRE

Friday, October 12—Douglas Fairbanks in "the Lamb," five reels. America's greatest exponent of the smile in a thrilling western drama. "The Butting Bellboy," two-reel comedy, and Educational Weekly.

Saturday, October 13—Vivian Martin and Sessue Hayakawa in "Forbidden Paths," five reels. An appealing story of a love affair between a Japanese artist and a young American girl. The former realizes his case is hopeless on account of the difference in race, but stands by his colors, finally sacrificing even life and honor for her happiness. Little Mary McAlister in "When Sorrow Weeps," another of the very interesting "Do Children Count?" series. Also "A Trip to Chinatown," two-reel Hoyt comedy.

Sunday, October 14—Franklin Farnum in the rollicking comedy, "The Clean-Up," five reels. A comedy-drama satirizing the "social reformers" who abound, with more or less influence, in practically every town in the country. A good comedy of pure fun, based on the discomfort of the Purity leaguers when they are, by trickery, converted to the showman's views of his own attraction to a happy ending while the satire is being unfolded. "Her Torpedoed Love," two-reel Keystone comedy. Also Burton Holmes' Travelogue. Added attraction, matinee only, Pearl White in "The Fatal Ring," No. 3.

Monday, October 15—Olive Thomas in "An Even Break," five reels. The story of a cabaret girl who traded the Great White way for the man she loved. She leaves her home in the little town of Randsburg and goes to New York, where she soon becomes a popular dancing favorite at the Minot's cafe. Later Jimmie Strang, the lover of her school days, comes to the city to visit her. He has made some successful inventions but is having trouble with labor agitators in Randsburg who fear that the new machines will throw them out of work as to the outcome. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in their burglar and Mrs. Sidney Drew in "Their Burglar." Pathe Latest News. Also "Out for the Coin," Christie comedy.

Tuesday, October 16—Bessie Barriscale in "Wooden Shoes," five reels. "Wooden Shoes," the latest starring vehicle of Bessie Barriscale, is presented to the public. The piece is a picturesque story of Holland from the pen of J. G. Hawks, and presents the popular little actress as "Pampy," a beautiful Dutch girl upon whom an invalid father is dependent for support. How Pampy found her grandfather as well as the artist for whom she had posed in Holland, and whose interest in her from their separation had developed into a strong love, makes one of the most charming stories ever transferred on the screen. "The Beautiful Imposter," two-reel society drama; also "A Love Chase," comedy.

Wednesday, October 17—Jack Pickford and Louise Huff in "What Money Can't Buy," five reels. A romantic story with a universal appeal. It relates how a young American journeys to one of the small principalities of Europe, and there meets and falls in love with the princess of the country. She returns his affection, but is not able to marry him against the wishes of her father until the boy's millionaire father practically buys the national debt of the country and becomes the power behind the throne. "Backward Sons and Forward Daughters," two-reel comedy; also Pathe News.

Thursday, October 18—Enid Bennett in "They're Off," five reels. A thrilling play of southern locale with a racing scene as the pivotal climax. The big moment of the picture comes when the little star dons jockey habit and rides Satan, her father's horse, in a race, the outcome of which is happiness for her. "Caught in the Act," two-reel comedy-drama, and "His Hidden Talent," one-reel comedy.

Friday, October 19—The strongest appeal ever made to patriotic America. A production of magnitude with over 3,000 people taking part. No battle scenes, no bloodshed. A strong, powerful story telling an undeniable truth. "A Slacker's Heart," a photo-drama which appeals to the honor of every true American citizen, regardless of birthplace, creed or station. Heart-gripping pathos, startling situations, forcible convincing acting, and a sensational climax which brings the spectators to their feet. It is an education for your children. It will teach them the holy trinity of our nation—country, love and honor.

Scene From "A Slacker's Heart" Friday, October 19.

NATIONAL THEATRE

"The Heart of Wetona," will be seen for the first time on the local stage next week, when it will be presented at the National week of October 14. "The Heart of Wetona," is a serious drama; drama with a "punch," drama with a thrill. Moreover, it is American to its smallest detail. Western in its admosphere—the locale is Oklahoma—it differs from the most dramas of the same section in that cowboys and the so-called wild West are made subservient to the love story. In its study of the American Indian it excels, and Mr. Scarborough, the author, has presented a picture of the Comanche which is vividly real, while Comanche customs, superstitions and religion are set forth in most convincing manner.

Wetona, in the story, is the daughter of Quannah and his white bride. Educated at a girl's seminary, she is somewhat above her tribe, and, as presented by the author, she shows a carefully outlined combination of Indian traits and mentality and Caucasian gloss and refinement. Back among her people, Wetona has met and loved Anthony Wells, a government engineer, who has forsaken West Point to take a position in the West. Wetona loves well but not wisely, and when she is selected by the tribe as the chief's daughter to serve as vestal virgin at one of its ceremonies, her conscience makes her confess her sin. A stirring scene is that between Quannah and his daughter, with which the play begins. The faces of two determined Indians against the window-panes, awaiting the confession of the name of Wetona's betrayer, make a solemn background for the tense situation.

Quannah threatens to cast his daughter from the tribe. He also threatens to cut her nose, as is the custom, so that henceforth she must be branded as a "slit-nose girl" or wanton. Wetona, still convinced of her lover's integrity, refuses to disclose his name for fear that death will follow and Quannah sets forth to ascertain the man's identity for himself.

To the house of John Hardin, an Indian agent, Wetona flees for advice. Finding her there, the chief suspects that Hardin, whom he has always respected, is the guilty man, and demands that Hardin marry the girl forthwith. This Hardin consents to do, having previously made known his love for the girl, but thinking only of saving her from disgrace until the guilty man shall come forward to arrange a divorce and marry her himself. The ceremony is scarcely performed when Hardin learns that the girl's seducer is none other than the young government engineer, who is even then a guest at his house.

Hardin respects Wetona's love for Tony, but he also determines that she shall know the scoundrel as he really is. For a week Wetona remains in Hardin's house when he conceives the plan of bringing Tony back and leaving him and Wetona in adjoining rooms for the night. Meanwhile Tony, not scenting the trap, relishes the idea and immediately demands of Wetona that she leave her door unlocked so that he may visit her in the night. Hardin is convinced that the girl will not weaken again, and he hides himself outside their doors to await developments.

After a long vigil the Indian girl steals out of her room and raps on Tony's door. He comes forth and she explains that she is beginning to doubt his sincerity and that she desires to question him. Tony professes his love at first, but afterwards becomes brutal, revealing his real character to the girl. She denounces him just as Hardin enters and again takes control of the situation. Finally Tony is shot by the waiting Comanches as he steps out of the house, and Wetona learns to appreciate Hardin for his true worth.

HALSTED THEATRE

Speaking of really good show houses, have you been to the Halsted lately, at the corner of 62d and Halsted Sts.? They are surely doing some great stunts in the line of putting on the best feature pictures seen in this part of the city. The busy house is roomy, well ventilated, clean and comfortable and every day in the year puts on a good show. The pictures they book are the choicest to be procured, not the stale, stereotyped kind, but the latest and best, with a happy commingling of dramatic art and comedy that makes every program entertaining and enjoyable. Drop in any time at the Halsted and you may be assured of a rich entertainment with the most comfortable surroundings and pleasant conditions.

Here is a brief outline of their program: Today, Friday, October 12—For the benefit of all who did not see the first series of "The Seven Pearls" we wish to announce that the first and second series will be shown today, Friday, October 12. Don't miss this opportunity of getting a good start. Miss Mollie King with Creighton Hale take the leading roles. Six months to recover the seven pearls or suffer the penalty of being sent to the harem. Ilma, the daughter of Honest Bey, a former American ambassador, agrees to return the pearls while her father is held in hostage. The pearls had been intrusted to her father's care by the sultan, and he had promised to guard them with his life, but unfortunately they were stolen by Harry Drake, a susceptible New York youth, who was traveling in Europe. See how they are recovered.

Sunday, October 14—"Fatty" Roscoe Arbuckle in his latest "O! Doctor." "The Fighting Trail," the latest Pathe Weekly and a very good drama. A good show worth seeing.

Monday, October 15—"The Outcast," featuring Ann Murdock. This is a strong picture in six parts and the best one of the season. No children admitted.

The drama is one of great strength and it is wonderfully well photographed as well as splendidly directed. Miss Murdock is seen at her best in this piece, being supported by the original cast of the Frohman production. "Outcast" is one of the most remarkable of modern screen productions. It is thoroughly adequate in everything that goes to make up a high-class picture.

Tuesday, October 16—"The Soldier's Chance," a strong Vitagraph feature starring Evert Overton, Marian Touche and an all-star cast. Don't miss this.

Wednesday, October 17—Gail Kane in "The Bride's Silence." "You all" know Gail Kane and will want to see this picture.

Miss Gail Kane's new American-Mutual production, "The Bride's Silence," reveals the brilliant young star in a new type of character—one which gives full play to her acknowledged genius for emotional interpretation.

Miss Kane portrays a girl who fights through years of mental anguish to protect her family name, convinced that a crime has been perpetrated by a member of the family, only to discover at last that her fears were groundless.

Attraction extraordinary! Extra! Two days, Friday and Saturday—extra! October 12 and 13, continuous 2 to 11 p. m. No stop for supper. The play you will want to see again! First time in this vicinity. The crowning achievement of "America's Sweetheart," Mary Pickford, in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." From the famous story by Kate Douglas Wiggins and Charlotte Thompson. Never has a star appeared in a more desirable as well as a suitable characterization. Critics say it's the greatest photoplay of the year. Mary Pickford has the best role and does the best work in her career. Attend the matinee and avoid the usual evening congestion. Be sure to see it! Come early. Bring the children.

Sunday, October 14, continuous 2 to 11 p. m. Metro Pictures present the crowned king and queen of filmdom, Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne in their latest wonderplay, "Their Compact." An extraordinary production in eight parts. One of the most gripping, vital, forceful photoplays ever screened. A worthy vehicle for these two superb stars. See the realistic fistic encounter. Added attraction—matinee only, 2 to 6 p. m. Episode three of the Marvelous melodramatic and thrilling play, "The Fighting Trail," and Mutt and Jeff comedy.

Direct from the loop. Two days, Monday and Tuesday, October 15-16. Matinee and night. First time in the South side. Paramount Pictures presents the charming, versatile, talented Pauline Frederick, who scores her greatest emotional hit in "Double Crossed." A play of unequaled histrionic power and unparalleled emotional acting. Written by Hector Turnbull, author of "The Cheat." Politics, burglary, society, love. What a superb background for the illimitable art of Pauline Frederick. You will revel with her when she triumphs over the keenest minds in the upper and underworld. You must see this play of a young society matron who sacrifices her home and position to save her husband from disgrace. Also other pictures.

One day only, Wednesday, October 17, matinee and night. Goodwyn Pictures offer the debut of America's greatest stage comedienne, Madge Kennedy in the swiftest comedy ever screened, "Baby Mine," from the international stage success by Margaret Mayo. Here is a real treat for all. One of the biggest laughing successes of the stage has at last reached the screen. "Baby Mine" will make you howl with delight. It's the kind of a picture that you can't help liking. It set the whole country talking, and you'll miss a big treat if you don't see "Baby Mine," with delightful Madge Kennedy. Also latest News Weekly, showing the world's baseball series.

Special—two days only—Thursday and Friday, October 18-19, matinee and night, the greatest feminine impersonator in the world, Julian Eltinge, in his initial photoplay, "The Countess charming." A great production by Gardner Hunting. As "man to man" or "woman to woman," Mr. Eltinge will appeal to you immensely in the brilliant story of fun, thrills and high society. As the Russian countess he surpasses anything he has ever done in his own unique field. Don't miss this play of fun and thrills. Also, Thursday only, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in a new comedy.

Coming, Monday, October 22, Charles Chaplin, in his new comedy, "The Adventure."

Friday and Saturday, October 26-27, Douglas Fairbanks, in "The Man From Painted Post."

Coming soon. Watch for dare, D. W. Griffiths' mammoth production, "Intolerance."

At the "Harvard Beautiful" Thursday and Friday, October 18th and 19th.

"Harvest" Saxon Word.

"Harvest," the word that brings to our minds golden grain, glowing fruit, sunshine, autumn haze, and bonfire smoke, was originally a Saxon word, "heerfest," which means "herbfeast."

Why Men Are Loved.

Most men are loved merely because they are men and not because of any unusual charm.—Atchison Globe.

Get "Copy" In, in Time.

All "copy," advertisements and other, must be received at this office by Wednesday night at the latest, and preferably before noon of Wednesday if special position is desired. We go to press at seven o'clock Thursday morning and the forms are locked at that time. The rest of the day is consumed in press work and preparing the papers for the mails to reach the readers early Friday morning, and we cannot receive copy later than Wednesday under any circumstance. We are sorry each week to have to refuse good matter, but we must set a time, and it is as above.

Our Paper Purely Local.

We are often compelled to refuse space for interesting items of news of a general character, but we must reserve our space for purely local matter, or at least matter that concerns our home people. We cover a large territory, from 55th St. to the south city limits and from State St. west to Marquette Pk., hence we have little space for lond-winded articles, no matter how important the subject or for items that may please certain people. We gladly give space to all local matter, personals or anything concerning our own home district or for the good of our people. All matter must be signed, not for publication, but that we may know the matter is genuine. We also ask that our writers be brief; we have no space to kill, and are compelled to condense all matter.

Englewood High School Notes.

The student body is working hard to secure $2,000 by Christmas for the Liberty loan. Every student is contributing to this fund. They now have $250. Watch the fund grow!

The Dramatic circle held its annual party for the alumnae on Tuesday, September 25. Fourten of their alumnae spent an enjoyable afternoon with them. They are working to perfect their plans for the coming year.

"Englewood's Own," Companies E and F, are drilling with great enthusiasm and vigor. They have an able drill master this year, Lieut. C. R. Anderson, who is well liked by all the cadets. The spirit of rivalry is very strong between these two companies. You may be assured they will bear a good account of themselves in the coming competitions.

Many of the young men who graduated from Englewood are now doing their bit for Uncle Sam. The "E" has formed a new department, called "Reveille," in which you can find news of the boys "over there." Mr. Hadden, former teacher of agriculture at Englewood, won a first lieutenancy at Fort Sheridan this summer. Frank Patten and James Davidson also are going to Camp Grant. Albert Whitmer goes to Battle Creek. Watch the "E" for further news of these men.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Courtency the pupils of the high school will present "Secret Seervice," a play much in keeping with the present spirit of the nation. As the play calls for many boys, it was necessary to hold a second tryout, because too few boys responded to the first call. Considering both tryouts, 108 boys and girls tried for parts. It is generally believed that the cast chosen is a good one. They begin work next week. The Art club, Will Petty, president, will design and make the scenery with the help of Miss Evans.

The recent campaign of the Englebooster association has set a new membership record. At the present time there are 1,185 Englebooosters. On Tuesday, October 16, they will hold a celebration in Senior hall. The orchestra will play the school songs, Mr. Beardsley will sing and Mr. Armstrong will present the Englebooster banners. The Booster sign writers are hard at work providing posters for the different clubs and organizations of the school. You will find the Englebooosters always ready to do their bit for the school and for Englewood.

Englewood's football squad is hard at work molding another winning team. Mr. Barradel will not be able to take charge of the team this year because of lack of time. Mr. G. H. Roscoe, who comes to us from the University of Illinois, has taken the team in hand and is working the boys into championship form. The boys realize that they must come out every night and work their hardest if they expect to have a chance to win. They have played two practice games, one against St. Rita and the other against Fenger high school. They beat St. Rita 19-0 and Fenger 46-6. They are encouraged and are working all the harder. Englewood plays her first league game on October 13 at Harrison.

ENGLEWOOD HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY.

Books and Magazines for Soldiers.

The high school library is co-operating with the other libraries of the country in the endeavor to supply the soldiers with books. All pupils are urged to bring from their own personal collections some good book which they have found enjoyable, and to give this to the collection which will be sent directly to the camps. Magazines also are acceptable for this collection provided they are not more than two months old. All pupils are urged to bring the books as soon as possible as Rockford cantonment is already calling for 25,000.

War Service.

Many in every community are anxious to serve and do not know what they can do, nor where to apply. Many, too, are seeking for a comprehensive description of the work of the nation at this time of crisis. To meet these needs the National Service handbook has been issued by the government committee on public information. The book has been sent to the libraries of the country and the high school library has two copies for circulation. All teachers, alumnae, art students, stenographers, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and all desirous of finding out how they may best serve the nation are invited to consult this book.

The high school library also desires to announce that it has recently added many new books and pamphlets on military science, good conservation, "Why We Are at War," and other pertinent subjects. It also has a large number of current magazines containing articles on these subjects now on file. E. R. PENDRY, Librarian.

Why Not Avail Yourself of Library Privileges?

Finding a Sleeping Place.

Robert wanted to stay all night at the place he and his mother were visiting. His mother told him there was no room, he'd have to sleep on the floor. "Hasn't your bed got a middle?" he asked his hostess.

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."—Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A Possible Reason.

"Beanborough always looks on the bright side of things."

"Why?"

"Well, the other day I went with him to buy a pair of shoes. He didn't try them on at the store, and when he got home he found that a nail was sticking right up through the heel on one."

"Did he take them back?"

"Not much. He said that he supposed the nail was put there intentionally to keep the foot from sliding forward in the shoe."

BOYS MAKE BEST AIR PILOTS

More Likely to Possess Dashing and Intrepid Qualities That Make Ideal Aviators.

War aviation, with its exceptional dangers and its demands for supreme courage, is peculiarly a service for volunteers. But it has been demonstrated, says St. Nicholas Magazine, that the younger the war pilot the more likely is he to possess those dashing and intrepid qualities that make the ideal air fighter. Consequently, the government is opening wide the door of the aviation service for volunteers under twenty-one, the conscription age. The army is already giving officers' commissions to young men nineteen years of age, while the navy has reduced its limit to eighteen years. Only commissioned officers are permitted to operate American military airplanes, so all our flyers will get commissions.

Boys considerably younger than eighteen can be thinking now of becoming war pilots, with reasonable expectations of seeing actual service. As long as the war goes on, the aircraft program will geep growing, since only the declaration of peace will justify a lessening of our effort.

First, let us see the qualifications of those suited to war aviation. The athletic type of boy is preferred. To have been a member of a team is usually a good indication of pluck and per sistence. A sound physique, and good vision and hearing, are absolutely necessary. The ideal airman has a cool head; he is able to act quickly in emergencies. It is important, too, that the war pilot be an accurate observer and equally inaportant that he possess the ability to form correct judgments.

Concrete Is Preferable.

Steel is going up, and concrete, as a result is coming into wider use. Railway bridges, for example, which used always to be of steel, are now often of concrete. A beautiful concrete railway bridge is being built across the James river at Richmond, Va., and it is much prettier than a steel bridge. For like reasons, concrete is replacing wood in mining structural works, where it has the great advantage of being waterproof.

Back Lame and Achy?

There's little peace when your kidneys are weak and while at first there may be nothing more serious than dull backache, sharp, stabbing pains, headaches, dizzy spells and kidney irregularities, you must act quickly to avoid the more serious trouble, dropsy, gravel, heart disease, Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that is so warmly recommended everywhere by grateful users.

An Illinois Case

A. Cavender, 621 Eighth St., Waukegan, Ill. says: "I had some pretty bad spells of backache and was almost doubled up at times. The kidney secretions were retarded and painful in passage and were filled with sediment. My feet and ankles swelled and I was suffering intensely when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me, although other medicines had failed."

Faith Was Weak.

During an extended drought in the land that inspires the rag-time song writers the "Rev'end" George Washington called a gathering of his colored brethren to supplicate the Lord for rain. Before he opened his sermon the "Rev'end" surveyed his congregation critically, and with increasing satisfaction. At last he lamented:

"De lack ob faith of yo' niggers is scandalous and sinful, and makes my heart sore and weary, and afeared for your souls! Heah we hab gathered to beg de Lord to stop de drought dat is burning up our fields, and to bless us with rain in abundance. And not one—no, sah!—not one ob yo disgraceful sinners had faith enough to bring an umbrella to go home with!"

MUST NOT BOTHER EDISON

Visitors Not Permitted to Intrude on Great Inventor When He Is Busy at His Experiments.

Thomas A. Edison's favorite pursuit is chemistry. Even as a boy telegraphist getting his first start toward a career, this inclination was manifest in his experiments with batteries and electric devices, and it still remains his greatest pleasure, observes an exchange.

His new laboratory is splendidly equipped. Every known substance ranging through all the kingdoms of matter from lanthanum to shark's teeth and including over 200,000 specimens, is kept on hand for immediate availability. It is a collection of over 30 years' standing, encouraged from time to time by prizes for new additions offered by the inventor to his men.

His own laboratory table is never, in any circumstances, allowed to be touched. A notice posted on the doorway reads to the effect that Mr. Edison is not to be disturbed in the course of his experiments except for matter of the utmost importance. So fond is he of his beloved pastime that he declares his idea of heaven is to be able to continue it, and his injunctions to his staff are: "When I die I want my table forwarded to me by wireless."

In the Language He Understood.

Clarence S. Keever, division superintendent of the Indiana Union Traction company, with headquarters at Muncie, reads everything dealing with electricity and electrical subjects that comes his way; so much so that he sometimes fails to keep up with public affairs as presented in the newspapers. He mentioned this to a friend the other night when the latter chided him for not knowing about an important war development.

"A man in your particular kind of business I should think would always be interested in current events," said the friend, "that is if you expect to be a live wire."—Indianapolis News.

Needed His Muscles.

The wounded Tommy writhed and squirmed as the masseuse, with iron fingertips, massaged his injured leg. At last he burst out:

"Arf a mo. What d'yer think yer a-doing of? Ow!"

"It's all right," said the masseuse. "I'm kneading your muscles."

The Tommy gently but firmly pulled his leg away from the none too gentle grasp of his tormentor, and breathed:

"So'm I."

Help to Save Nation's Food Supply

In this time of high cost of living, everybody should use all possible means to prevent waste and to help save food. No one means can be more effective than a vigorous campaign to exterminate rats which destroy over two hundred million dollars worth of foodstuffs annually. Keep garbage in rat-proof cans, stop up their holes, and above all exterminate them with Stearns' Paste, which can be bought for a few cents at any store. A two ounce box will usually rid a house or barn of every rat. It destroys mice, cockroaches and waterbugs as well. Adv.

Hello Profanity.

The rule is strict against using profane language when talking over the telephone. A telephone experiment has proved a failure in Lynn, Mass. The manager noticed that "wrong number" calls were frequent, and he ordered the "hello" girls to call each digit separately and to insert the word "dash" after each one. The method was slow, but the climax was reached when a Lynn man was in a hurry to get a Boston newspaper office. He called for "Beach 3000" and heard a sweet voice at "central" say: "Beach three, dash, oh, dash, oh, dash, oh, dash."

That nettled the Lynn man and he called out:

"Well, what are you cussing about?"

The order was abolished, and no more dashes are being said by the telephone girls at Lynn.—Buffalo Commercial.

Canada's Liberal Offer of Wheat Land to Settlers

is open to you—to every farmer or farmer's son who is anxious to establish for himself a happy home and prosperity. Canada's hearty invitation this year is more attractive than ever. Wheat is much higher but her fertile farm land just as cheap, and in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta

160 Acre Homesteads Are Actually Free to Settlers and Other Land Sold at from $15 to $20 per Acre

The great demand for Canadian Wheat will keep up the price. Where a farmer can get near $2 for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre he is bound to make money—that's what you can expect in Western Canada. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed Farming in Western Canada is fully as profitable as industry as grain raising.

The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, churches, markets convenient, climate excellent. There is an unusual demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for the war. Has More Endurance.

Tests carried on at Princeton university have proved that the man who weighs about 140 pounds and is about five feet and six or seven inches high is really of the best physical type. He can do more in proportion to his size than a larger man and has more endurance. Likewise the brunette is apt to have more endurance than the blond.

"Wonderfully cultured," came the echo.

"However, one thing is true," confessed the broker, "she has a slight hunch on her back."

"And what a hunch!" confirmed the assistant.

A Letter From Washington

The Food Administrator Writes Us:

"The use of baking powder breads made of corn and other coarse flours instead of patent wheat flour is recommended by the Conservation Division of the Food Administration. The wheat needed for export is thus conserved, and at the same time healthful food for our own people is provided. The circulation of recipes providing for these uses would be of assistance in carrying out our plans."

The following recipes for Corn Bread and Rye Rolls save wheat flour and make attractive and wholesome food for every day when made with

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

CORN BREAD

1¾ cups corn meal
¼ cup flour
4 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
3 tablespoons shortening

Mix thoroughly dry ingredients; add milk and melted shortening; beat well; pour into well greased pan and bake in hot oven about 35 minutes.

RYE ROLLS

2 cups rye flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 level teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
¾ cup milk
½ tablespoon shortening

Sift dry ingredients together, add milk and melted shortening. Knead on floured board; shape into rolls. Put into greased pans and allow to stand in warm place 20 to 25 minutes. Bake in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

Our red, white and blue booklet "Best War Time Recipes" containing additional similar recipes sent free on request. Address Royal Baking Powder Company, Dept. W, 135 William Street, New York.

Want Good Marksmen.

At the time of the Spanish-American war an expert rifle shot was refused enlistment as a sharpshooter on the ground that good marksmanship is of no advantage on the field of battle. There are still some military authorities who believe this to be the case. They point out that when the distance is not accurately known, the good rifleman will be sure to miss while a volley from poor marksmen will cover a large area and score some hits. Nevertheless, the policy is now to encourage marksmanship by every possible means.

Mention of the small estate accumulated by one of the best-known of American literary men recalls a story. A wife was reading a newspaper to her husband. "Here," she said, "is a waiter who is worth $250,000." "I don't believe it," said he. "No writer was ever worth any such sum." "I didn't say 'writer'; I said 'waiter'," corrected the lady. "Oh," remarked her husband, more calmly; "I can see how that might be."

Our best motives may be impugned, as witness—an Englewood man carries his wife's picture in his watch case, and looking at it on the "L" yesterday, a friend who did not know the lady, remarked with a wink, "Some bird that, eh!" and the lady on the other side sniffed and said: "The horrid wretch, carrying some actress' picture while his poor wife is neglected, I'll bet."

They had a computer show on at the National last season, and the man on the stage was doing wonderful things. Finally he had a big boy brought on the stage, and announced that he was about to perform the greatest feat of the evening. "I will ask any lady in the audience to enter this cabinet; I will then close the door, and when I open it again the lady will have disappeared, leaving no trace." Down in the audience was a pany-looking little old man with a hunted and harassed expression on his weak face but he turned to a large woman sitting beside him, who had a strong stern face, black beetling brows and a jaw like a first-class battleship, and while a gleam of hope showed in the insignificant husband's eyes, he mildly said: "Maria, dear, won't you oblige the gentleman," but the wise old gal didn't go up, nor did she disappear, as the hubby hoped for.

The Englewood Sunday Evening Club.

It is with pleasure that we announce as our guest and speaker for the meeting of our club, Sunday evening, October 14, the Hon. Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati, O. To those who heard Mr. Bigelow speak from our platform last May on the subject of "The Religion of Inspired Politics" he will need no introduction, for few indeed have been our speakers who have made so lasting an impression. To those who were not privileged to hear him at that time we promise an equally inspiring and interesting evening when he brings to us next Sunday evening his message on "Old Institutions and New Ideals."

Mr. Bigelow is one of the great men of Cincinnati, a man who is taking part in Ohio's political history. He was a candidate for secretary of state in 1902 and campaigned throughout the state with Tom L. Johnson. In 1912 he served as president of Ohio's fourth constitutional convention, and later as a member of the Ohio legislature from Cincinnati. The initiative and referendum, which has become a part of the constitution of Ohio, is credited to him. The part he has taken in the political life of the state and his advocacy of certain measures have won for him bitter opponents, as well as loyal friends, but, in spite of all, he has a remarkable following in his own city. His name has three times been upon the ballot, and has each time led the ticket.

An editorial in the Philadelphia Public Ledger says of him: "Probably the preacher who is most prominent politically at the present time is Herbert Seely Bigelow of Cincinnati. Mr. Bigelow is no novice in politics, and while he has been for the last 19 years an active and successful pastor, he has devoted much of his time to the work of social and political reform. He is a fine speaker and is noted not only as a pulpit and campaign orator, but as a lecturer."

An editorial in Reedy's Mirror, a St. Louis publication, says: "This man has put Christianity into practical politics as no other man has done before in this country. Fifteen years ago he became coadjutor of Tom L. Johnson, once reviled, now almost sainted, in Ohio. He was gloriously walloped when he ran for secretary of state, but he organized the campaign for a new constitution, forced the legislature to call the convention, was elected as a delegate and was chosen president of the same. All the progressiveness there is in that constitution framed by the convention and adopted by the people of Ohio, was put there chiefly through the efforts of Herbert S. Bigelow. He is still fighting all over Ohio for economic justice."

Herbert Bigelow has been for twenty years the minister of the Vine Street Congregational church, now known as the People's church and town meeting place of Cincinnati. He preaches Sunday afternoons to the largest audience in the city, and of necessity his preaching is distinctive in the emphasis placed upon the application of Christian ethics to social problems.

Our soloist next Sunday evening will be Mr. Arthur Platz, tenor. There will be the usual organ recital from 7:15 to 7:30 by Mr. Kurtz, and the service will begin promptly at 7:30. You are most cordially invited to meet with us in the auditorium of the Englewood Presbyterian church, at Yale Ave. and 64th St., and share in the pleasure and benefit of the program as outlined above.

Good Wages Necessary.

Proper remuneration of labor and well-being of the individual must be recognized as elements of sound business management, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The age has passed when the yearly dividend paid to stockholders is accepted by the public as the sole cause for the existence of an industry. Neither are we justified in passing judgment on the quality of industrial administration, or on the practicability of any system of factory operation solely on the basis of whether such administration or system will insure a permanent or increasing degree of financial profit to the owner. We have to consider the human side of all industrial activity, not alone in its relation to the segregated community and the public at large.

By-Laws.

The original meaning was "town laws." "By" is an old Norse word meaning "town." It appears in the names of such towns as Derby and Whitby in the part of England which was overrun by the Danes in the ninth and tenth centuries.

Englewood Woman's Club.

Benjamin W. Robinson to Speak Before Education Department Monday Morning, October 15 — Business Meeting in the Afternoon.

The morning of October 8 was spent with the literature department of the Englewood Woman's club. Mrs. Charles Leigh, as chairman, presided, calling on Mrs. Hubert McCormick for a report of the Public School Art society and Mrs. Henry Ashton for a report of current art and literature. Both papers were of interest.

Mrs. James Wishart has charge of the soldiers and sailors' scrapbooks, which are being distributed by the Daily News. Anyone wishing to help along the good work may secure books from her.

The ladies, many of them knitting, describes a cozy morning in the clubroom, for after the speaker, Mrs. Elia J. Peattie, literary critic of the Tribune, was introduced by Mrs. George Hunt, it was then indeed a pleasure to listen to one who seemed so wrapped up in her subject, "The Message of Our Present-Day Poets." She had many illustrations of poetry to read to us, and it all seemed so different from the general trend of poetry we more often read.

"The beauty of early poetry lies in the fact that the record is bona fide and not imitating anyone. New poets are trying to return to this mode.

"A poet must be constantly seeking new pictures to say new things in a new way.

"We find many crude poems which are now being translated into beauty." As a simile to this she said she heard of a farmer who once remarked: "I make my money in hogs, but spend it on pictures."

Poems of Margaret Widiner, Harriet Monroe, Edgar Lee Masters, Theodosia Garrison and others were read. Thus a pleasant morning, well spent under Mrs. Peattie's careful preparation, was passed.

Patriotism seemed to be the principal theme of the opening of the afternoon program. Mrs. Clark suggested the singing of our national hymn, William Griswold Smith leading the audience, with Miss Agnes Bodholdt accompanying. It might be well if we all became more familiar with this hymn.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Frederick Nichols, secretary, and the following special items of interest were made:

The French salon, meeting with Mrs. William Miller of 7205 Yale Ave. on Tuesday afternoon.

The club gymnasium class on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 at Hamilton Park field house.

A trip, Thursday, October 18, by invitation from the North End Woman's club to Mr. J. Ogden Armour's Melody farm at Lake Forest. The train leaves the Union station at 12:30 on above date.

A patriotic rally under the supervision of the Normal college, which extends an invitation to this club to join them in a trip to the Great Lakes Training station today. Many maneuvers by the jackies have been planned and a good, interesting time promised to all. The Milwaukee Electric line will be used.

Mrs. Griswold Smith of 6758 Perry Ave. will organize a class in knitting. All those wishing to join see Mrs. Smith.

Those wishing to entertain two soldiers some Sunday give your names to Guy Guernsey, who will make the arrangements for you.

Housing conditions in America will be discussed at the La Salle hotel on October 15, 16 and 17. A very vital question and one of which many should take advantage.

The guests of honor Monday were Horace Nugent, British consul general, and Antonin Barthelemy, French consul. The former very graciously acknowledged for both the cordial introduction made by the president, Mrs. Clark.

The first of a series of lectures on "The Changing World" was delivered by J. Paul Goode of the University of Chicago. His subject, the "Geographic and Economic Causes of the War," was handled in an authoritative manner. Doctor Goode is a very clear and decisive speaker. Stereopticon views were shown in plenty, dealing largely with maps and statistics, with now and then a view of those people with whom we are now in mighty conflict.

The following are extracts:

One generation ago Frederick Nietzsche was singing into the ears of the young men things that now have become fundamental to the Germans in this war. For instance, he said: "I do not advise you to work, but fight," "Might is right," "Unforgivable sin is tenderness, sympathy and pity."

The kaiser's address to his officers some time ago was:

"A soldier must not have a will of his own, but my will," "The best word is a blow," "The army and navy are the pillars of the state," "Hurrah for dry powder and sharp sword," "Let whoever falls into your hand be doomed."

"Religion has nothing to do with this war," said Doctor Goode, "God seems to have died in his pity for men." "Race hatred is a force which can be invoked over night." "This is a war of greed. Greed is a king for loot." "War calls for forethought, for capital, munitions, equipment, a certainty for food supply." "If Germany cannot rule the seas Germany is lost, therefore war is solved so far as commerce is concerned." "Without hatred there is no war or lust of conquest." "The nation is mad and running amuck." "Whom the gods destroy they first make mad."

Next Monday morning Benjamin Robinson will speak before the education department on the subject, "Biblical Element in Literary Efficiency," and in the afternoon a business meeting will be held.

Prof. Percy Boynton of the University of Chicago will speak on the "Liberty Loan" at the club on Monday afternoon from 2:00 until 2:30. Anyone wishing to hear Prof. Boynton may be guests of the club for the half hour, which is promised to be most interesting.

Alice Was Not Particular.

Little Alice was a great pet of her grandmother, who lived in the same house with her. Alice had the bad habit of running away, and her mother often had to resort to rather strenuous measures to keep her at home. One afternoon her mother was ready to go to her club, but as usual Alice was missing, so she started out in search of her. Finding her at one of the neighbor's, she started with her toward home in silence. Suddenly Alice looked up with a winning smile and said: "Oh, mamma, you don't need to go home; you can just go on to your club, and grandma can whip me."

Newell Dwight Hillis to Speak on German Atrocities.

Next Monday evening, October 15, in the Englewood Baptist church, Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis will speak, under the auspices of the Englewood Sunday Evening club, on "The German Atrocities the Logical and Inevitable Result of the German Philosophy of Militarism."

Doctor Hillis has spoken twice at the regular Sunday evening services of the club, and his coming again cannot fail to be of interest to the Englewood public. He is a national and international figure, due both to his renown as a preacher and lecturer and to the fact that he is the successor of Dr. Lyman Abbott, now editor of the Outlook, in the pulpit of Plymouth Congregational church of Brooklyn, N. Y., the church made famous by the pastorate of Henry Ward Beecher.

From the pulpit of that church Doctor Hillis has been preaching a series of sermons relative to the subject on which he will speak to us. He was sent abroad by the American Bankers' association to investigate the stories of Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis.

German atrocities in the war zone, and the National Security league of the United States is affording him an opportunity of appearing throughout the country to place the results of his investigation before the public. This was a thoroughly disinterested inquiry and his name and ability guarantee the truth of his statements.

In the newspaper reports of his sermon last Sunday, October 7, he is quoted as follows: "The peace propaganda was described by Doctor Hillis as 'a vast scheme to bribe, coerce and influence. Nothing in Germany's plans for war are nearly so startling as her plans for peace. Multitudes innocently have become influenced by the skillfully laid propaganda. It is the American people's most subtle danger.'"

His addresses are given wide publicity throughout the country and we believe that this is an occasion when no one can afford to be absent. The Englewood Sunday Evening club certainly deserves the thanks and hearty support of the entire community for its tireless efforts to bring to Englewood men of the type of Doctor Hillis.

Tickets for the above lecture may be obtained from the following: C. H. Rice, Stewart Ave and 63d St.; C. F. Manahan, Stewart Ave. and 63d St.; Englewood State bank, Yale Ave. and 63d St.; Arthur Higsen, Wentworth Ave. and 69th St.; Fleming Bros., Wentworth Ave., near 69th St.; Englewood Men's club, Harvard Ave., near 63d St.

Englewood High School Parent-Teachers' Association.

The Lewis-Champlin Parent-Teacher association, held its first meeting this year on Tuesday, October 2 at 1:30 p. m. The membership committee, under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Ellis, hoping to surpass last year's record, decided to make a drive for membership. They offer a prize to the room having the largest percentage of members and consolation prizes to other rooms for good work in securing members. The program consisted of entertainment by the fifth grade, led by Miss Alvina Paramel, and a piano solo by Margaret Rochler. The address was by Mrs. W. S. Heffernan of the council of national defense, who spoke on the coming registration of women. She made a stirring appeal for the patriotic co-operation of the members in making the registration a success. The regular monthly dime social under the direction of Mrs. L. P. Fry, finance chairman, will be held at the school Friday, October 19, at 2 p. m. Everybody is invited to come and bring her knitting. There will be refreshments and a program.

SHOULD KEEP ON ACHIEVING

Good Work Demands Continuous Improvement in Every Line of Human Activity.

The other day a famous author was telling me how he felt when his first story was accepted. He said that within a few minutes the thought flashed across his mind that he could not stop—but must go on. One good story must be followed by another and another and another—else his reputation would die and he would be humiliated. He said that the feeling was not exactly comfortable—that the prospect was in a way terrible. "Being successful," he said, "is not easy. The successful man advertises to the world that he can do certain things well—and he must go on making good or back off the map. It's a great sensation, a great experience—worth almost anything—but it isn't a snap."

It is the same way in business, says a writer in the American Magazine. The salesman who sets a high mark has to go right out and beat that mark or suffer by comparison with his own record. He can't sit down in a rocking chair and devote the rest of his life to receiving congratulations.

Have you ever sat in a restaurant and compared your job with that of a waiter? Try it some time. No matter what your work is I am sure you will see the point if you watch the waiter and think how exactly his job typifies yours. Take, for example, my job—that of an editor. An editor's job is exactly like that of a waiter. He has to go and get something good and bring it in. And after he has brought it in he has to go right out and get something more and bring that in. The minute he sits down or stops to talk unnecessarily with the guests, he ceases to give as good service as before. Then the guests who praised him a moment ago begin to growl. And so, almost immediately, he has turned from a good servant into a poor one.

This fits any line of human activity. A continuous performance is what is wanted. Nothing else counts.

Community Club of Englewood.

A wonderfully inspirational meeting was the first one of the season for the club. There was an unusually large attendance, and although the program was long, its unusual excellence held the closest interest and attention of the audience until its close.

Doctor Johnston created the only sensible attitude toward the food questions, and we are sure the government will have the co-operation of all the loyal women of the community—and we feel we are all loyal.

Mrs. Taylor was splendid in the way she presented the scope of the Navy league's work, and she made us eager to do more; while Mrs. Griffith, in her resume of the work done by the club's unit, added to our ambition, and we hope for many busy fingers to help us all winter at the Baptist Church house on Tuesdays. At this point we would like to chronicle our obligation and gratitude to the trustees of the Baptist church for the courtesy they are extending to us in the use of these rooms.

We were captivated beyond expression by the simple yet masterful way in which Mrs. John H. Lyle rendered the charming, patriotic story of "The Vintage." That narrative in Mrs. Lyle's hands is doing its "bit" in a most quaint and appealing way, and if the real slackers could hear it, we feel that most of them would want to come to the rescue of the grandest country in the world—our country.

Mrs. Mann presided well, and with her many good qualities of head and heart we shall be glad to follow where she leads—to success in all her undertakings for the year. As we gather inspiration and courage from numbers, we hope all the women of the community will join the club.

The next meeting will be of a good time, social nature, at the home of Mrs. Robinson, 501 West 61st Pl., on October 23.

Henry S. Wilde's Biggest Market on South Side.

Our old friend and neighbor, Henry S. Wilde, formerly at 63d and Normal Blvd., secured the management of the New City Packing company, located at 4737-39 South Ashland Ave., and has the largest, best-equipped and in every way most complete market in this part of the city. Their own ice plant cools their immense plant; live chickens and poultry of all kinds are kept in another apartment specially built for them, still another is devoted to fresh fish, and a dozen salesmen are busy attending to their retail trade. It is clean, sanitary, and the stock so large that choice cuts of all kinds are on view and sale at prices that go far to knock out old "H. C. L." so it will pay purchasers of good meats to visit Mr. Wilde's new establishment. The upper floors are devoted to the wholesale department, where they devote themselves to catering to the largest hotels, restaurants, hospitals and public institutions, and the stocks carried are a revelation to those not accustomed to wholesaling in this line. Mr. Wilde invites a visit from his old Englewood friends, and will be pleased to show them his new place and a strictly up-to-date market.

DEAR MADAM:

At this season we are better able than ever to show you the very latest and best in all the reliable makes of CORSETS for all occasions and purposes.

The usefulness and necessity of corsets for the human figure has been acknowleged since the time of Queen Elizabeth, and their constant improvement have made them a necessity as not only an accessory to dress, but also a support and help to "the human form divine." Large or small, tall or short, the figure can be improved by a good corset fitted by an expert corsetier, who can bring out the points of vantage and improve those needing emphasizing. We have the corset your figure requires, and our years of experience in the best corset departments in the city enables us to fit them correctly and adapt them to your individual needs, and we ask that you give us an opportunity of furnishing you with a corset this fall that will be as individual to you as your face.

Our large double stores with our private fitting rooms and our many makes styles, sizes and designs in corsets, makes it an easy matter for us to perfectly fit any figure for any gown or style, for any occasion. We have fitted thousands of others, some most difficult, and we are satisfied we can please you, should you give us the opportunity.

We also carry a complete line of Brassieres, Hosiery, Gloves, Boudoir Caps, Silk and Knit Underwear, Camosoles, Sanitary Goods and the many other articles that go to make up the intimate dress of the woman of today, and the necessary accessories for her toilet.

We are the original and first exclusive corset shop in this part of the city, and are the only one with a staff of experts of experience and taste that can advise with women seeking the best in corestry, and to improve their figures, retaining its youthful and supple lines.

Hoping to see you during our grand Fall and Winter Opening and have the pleasure of meeting you personally, we remain

Yours most courteously,

STEPANEK'S CORSET SHOP,

MRS. ANNA STEPANEK, Proprietress,
